

Things My Mother Taught Me: Finding Forgiveness

RABBI'S MESSAGE

Beth D. Davidson

As some of you may already know, for most of my youth my mother Barbara Davidson was a TV columnist for Newsday, and then a reporter and columnist for the New York Times.

One of my early childhood memories is of her reviewing the network coverage of the 1964 Presidential elections—in those days it was just ABC, CBS, NBC, and PBS. I remember four televisions set up in the living room, as she watched, listened, and reviewed the experts.

Then, as now, my mother thought that most of TV was a wasteland (in one unforgiveable column she blasted “Star Trek!”); as a result, my TV watching was severely curtailed. Leonard Bernstein’s “Young People’s Concerts,” the science show “What’s New,” and “Batman,” (in which the violence was so silly that you knew it wasn’t real) were among the handful of shows that passed the Barbara-test. The fact that I watched so little and read so much may in fact explain why I am such a nerd.

Although I don’t think she did me irreparable harm not watching the same things as the rest of my generation, there are numerous cultural connections that I still miss.

I was too old for “Sesame Street.” It was another show she didn’t like, as she was convinced that children were being trained to watch for commercials (even if the commercials were in fact advertising letters). In hindsight, how many of us watch TV trained to sit for 8 minutes, and then take a mental or potty break?

And yet despite her best efforts, somehow I learned the Mickey Mouse Song. I don’t think I ever saw the show, but I went around the house singing “M-I-C”... “K-E-Y” (Y? Because we love you!)... “M-O-U-S-E.” To this day, it is one of those annoying tunes that a pops into my head, and you should all be grateful that I don’t burst into song when it does.

I realized over 40 years ago that this soundtrack plays regularly around the High Holy Days. I hear “F-O-R”... “G-I-V”... “E-N-E-S-S” over and over in my daily mental playlist at this time of the year. Y? Because asking for and offering forgiveness is the concept that is repeated over and over as we approach and then experience these Days of Awe. Even during my angry, “organized-religion-is-a-waste-of-time” teen years, my subconscious must have picked this up and, as a result, translated it into this annoying, repetitive jingle.

My unconscious wasn’t wrong. As the month of Elul begins, and as the pace picks up with Selichot, we are instructed, over and over, that we need to make it right with those human beings we may have injured, or else we won’t be able to ask God for forgiveness on Yom Kippur. Do we have to ask?

Yes, and I know that I am not alone, when by call, note, or even e-mail, I ask those whom I know I have wronged to forgive me.

Do we have to forgive? Our tradition says yes, though I know that this is sometimes harder than asking. I can imagine that there are offenses that cannot be forgiven, and that, I believe, is ultimately left to the individual and God. You may find it funny, as I occasionally do, that I have in fact become part of the organized religious world against which my teenager rebelled.

This too, I credit to my mother. I must have been about 11 or 12, and I remember asking her “What is a sin?” That long list of adult behaviors didn’t mean much to me. Her answer has stuck with me to this day. My mother said “A sin is complaining about something without trying to fix that something,” and that has guided me through life.

TEMPLE ADATH YESHURUN

I couldn't complain about organized religion unless I was willing to try and fix what I perceived to be the flaws. This is the short reason for why I do what I do. And although our Yom Kippur service provides us with an alphabetical list of sins, her definition continues to speak to me.

This year, if you hear that tune wafting down the halls, or from the Bimah, you will know where my thoughts are. And I hope you will join me, not necessarily in singing, but in asking for the forgiveness each of us needs.

If I have offended anyone in the TAY family, I hope you are able to forgive me. If you have offended me, know that you are forgiven.

I hope and pray for a Happy, Healthy, Prosperous and Peaceful New Year for all.

MANTY Announcement: Advisor Needed for Fall, 2017

- understand and appreciate liberal Jewish values
- have flexible schedule
- want to help shape the future by working with tomorrow's Jewish leaders

We found Adam Klein through the recommendation of a congregant. If you know of someone who might be interested in this part time job, please ask him or her to get in touch with Rabbi Beth Davidson at 669-5650.

President's Message

Cate Tanzer

My Fellow Congregants,

I hope you are enjoying the summer holiday and warm weather. In the summer-time, life seems to slow down—but behind the scenes, we are busy at Temple Adath Yeshurun.

The Director of Education as well as the teachers are busy planning the school year. The Brotherhood and Sisterhood are planning their events.

The L'Chayim Jewish Food Festival Committee and Bagels and Biscuits Committee are planning this year's fundraisers, too.

The plans for the patio renovation have been approved by the city and we broke ground in August.

A new shed has been purchased and installed, as well. [Editor's note: See the new storage shed picture on page 3. Story in Col 3 on this page.]

Of course, the preparation for the High Holy Days has already begun and we are looking forward to the Days of Awe.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate this year's TAY Shem Tov winners: Reva Miller and Ruthie Gordon. Both volunteers work tirelessly to keep the Temple running: Reva as Assistant Treasurer and Ruthie as Religious School Chair, Sisterhood Co-President, Judaica Shop Chair, and Co-Chair of L'Chayim Jewish Food Festival. Both women also volunteer at the various temple events throughout the year.

Ruthie Gordon and Reva Miller will receive their awards at the Jewish Federation Annual Meeting on September 10. Thank you for your service.

SAVE the DATE: the fourth annual L'Chayim Jewish Food Festival is planned for Sunday, October 15, 2017, beginning at 4:30 PM. (The Patriots are playing at 1 PM that day. Please come out for dinner after the game.) We will have brisket, kugel, matzoh ball soup, stuffed cabbage. . . so bring your appetite! It is always a good time.

On the same day, the Manchester Community Theatre is also having a matinee showing of "My Fair Lady." So if you're not a Patriots fan, you could see the show and then come for dinner. Make it a family night while supporting two great community events.

I wish you and your family a Happy and Healthy New Year.

L'Shanah Tova, Cate Tanzer

New Storage Shed

In an addition to the other work that's taking place in our courtyard, we have acquired a new shed.

While the shed is a requirement to meet the Manchester Fire Department codes, we might as well have a nice one.

The shed will house our lawn care and other outdoor equipment, materials that we use to build our Sukkah, and other items that are not sensitive to our dynamic NH weather.

We will also be shedding our old one, which is currently attached to the back of the building.

Udi Goren's Israel Trail BOOK

The photographic picture book will be available through Udi Goren's crowd-funding campaign in mid-September. (You may have seen one of the three programs he did at TAY this spring, brought to us by the Jewish Federation of NH.)

In this 5778 issue of the Bulletin, we feature two of Goren's photos on page 1 and page 17.

To learn more about Goren's book, go to this link and sign up: shvil.udigoren.com/a-walk-of-the-land.

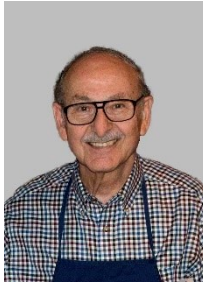

You'll be notified when the campaign goes "live."

... And the Brotherhood Beat Goes On ...!

by Sol Rockenmacher

Your Temple Adath Yeshurun Brotherhood is looking forward to another active and meaningful year—a year of service, camaraderie, and fun.

Nevertheless, we mourn the loss of Lee Dorson: a past President of TAY Brotherhood, and Man of the Year. His commitment to the temple, the Brotherhood, and the community was significant. He will be remembered as someone who was always there to help anyone in need. Brotherhood strives to remember the legacies of men like Lee as we follow and are inspired by our mentoring role models through the years.

Below is a draft of our proposed calendar for the 2017-2018 year. As there are no federal or state elections this year there will be no Candidates Breakfast event in the fall. However, we are planning on some very interesting and exciting Breakfast speaker programs throughout the year. Stay tuned for the details.

Please come on board to enjoy a great experience of warm and wonderful fellowship. As always, membership in the Brotherhood is open to all men with a connection to the Jewish community.

If you have not received your membership information in the mail or if you have any questions, contact Dave or Sol.

Sharing Our Jewish Eyes

August 2017

Shalom everyone,
I hope that everyone's summer has been more relaxing than the school year, and therefore rejuvenating. I'm near to ending my summer of Arts & Crafts Director at Camp Young Judea in Amherst, where I keep track of many moving parts, but most specially have the opportunity to continue my interaction with young people in a Jewish environment.

I'm looking forward to seeing all of you and your children, and hearing about your summer adventures!

Over the summer I've been preparing to get our next school year up and going. Although the calendar will be sent out soon, I invite everyone to a September 24 Family Education Program about food insecurity, during which we will focus on some Jewish texts about food and how we feed those who are less fortunate than ourselves and during which we will cook a meal for the Nashua Soup Kitchen—which they are very excited to receive.

On that Sunday, September 24, we will begin promptly at 9:30 rather than our usual time of 10:00, and anyone who can stay longer than 12:00 noon for finishing up and clean up, is encouraged to do so.

Also, beginning directly after Labor Day, we are beginning our Seeing the World Through Jewish Eyes contest. I've always said that I see the world through Jewish eyes—now especially true with my newer glasses that have 12 tiny silver Jewish stars inlaid into the black plastic.

Please notice the Jewish world around you and take pictures of what you see.

There is more than one category of noticing the Jewish around us.

1. While out in the world noticing something that is actually Jewish in some way. Examples:

(a) the pomegranate that's on the side of the grocery pick-up cabinet at Whole Foods. When Whole Foods designed the cabinet, I'm 97% sure that it was not considering Jewish symbolism when they chose a pomegranate as one of the pieces of produce to be emblazoned on the cabinet. But there it is!

Pomegranates get much airplay in Jewish life and texts.

(b) The San Antonio Spurs basketball team's logo naturally incorporates a spur. When I look at the spur (see picture), I immediately see a Jewish star.

2. The serendipity: while I was driving in downtown Nashua last month, there was a car in front of me (see picture) with a license plate reading "LABRIS." Who knows if this is a surname or a word important to the driver, but to me it reads "La Bris"—"the bris." That ceremony is definitely Jewish.

Who can participate in our Seeing the World Through Jewish Eyes contest? Students, of course, but also grandparents, parents, teachers and congregants. The more pictures we have to share, the better. All of our eyes will be opened and looking in new ways at our world.

Send your pictures to me at eddirectorTAY@gmail.com.

Each month we'll choose the best serendipitous picture and showcase it in the lobby and in the Temple Adath Yeshurun Bulletin.

Share your Jewish eyes with us all.

I look forward to seeing you soon. Be well.

Peace & pomegranates,
Stacy

ATTENTION ALL WRITERS

(experienced or developing). . .

We’re looking for articles from the congregation. Every issue you will find regular columns from our Rabbi, Congregational President, Education Director, and Brotherhood and Sisterhood Co-Presidents.

The Rabbi suggested a “Jews from the Pews” column—that is, a guest spot for each issue. We no longer have pews, so we’re not so sure of the title, but that shouldn’t stop you from coming forward with a great idea for an article.

And while we work on the title (“Menschies from the Benches?” Hmmm...), you can work on a piece of news, an opinion piece, a reminiscence, an interview with your favorite TAY personality. You propose it, we’ll consider it.

We’ll also provide you with expert editorial skills and feedback, as well our 5778 copy DEADLINES and Guidelines. (Fortune favors the bold, though not the bold-face type. Please use non-bold Times New Roman, 10-point font, single-spaced paragraphs.)

Questions or ideas?

Send them to taynews @comcast.net, and we’ll send you answers. Or call M. Singer at 497-2379 between the 8s, and talk it over.

We’ll take care of the rest.

Meet Bob LeFevre, Whose New Brooms Sweep Clean

by Mark Granoff

If you frequent Friday night services, have attended Bar or Bat Mitzvot, or any of our special Sisterhood and Brotherhood events, the sparkle evident all around TAY—particularly in the social hall and kitchen—is the handiwork of our new caretaker Bob Lefevre. Bob joined our TAY staff just after the Holy Days last year (October of 2016) and we are thrilled to have him.

So let's take a moment to meet Bob and learn about what he does when he is not caring for TAY.

Bob resides in Chester just east of Manchester with his wife Joanne, where he is now a gentleman farmer raising chickens and growing vegetables. He and Joanne raised four children in Chester; the youngest Zachary is 23 so the nest is largely empty.

Just prior to joining TAY he had a 15-year career as a dental lab technician where his skilled hands literally brought smiles to people's faces as he fashioned dentures and bridges for thousands of patients over the years.

Bob is a US Army Veteran who served his country as a member of the 82nd Airborne Division from 1982-1986, jumping out of perfectly serviceable aircraft, although he says, "Jumping out was probably the better option, noting the condition of these large sky buses!"

After completing his military service Bob moved back to where he grew up, Chester, NH, becoming a firefighter in neighboring East Derry. In his off hours, he worked as a car salesman.

Bob has worn many hats over the years, but his favorite hat displays the stylized "B" of the Boston Red Sox. Bob says he is a "huge" Sox fan and is often seen sporting his Sox cap at Temple Adath Yeshurun.

He is also a huge NASCAR fan and has attended many races in Loudon and elsewhere over the years. Being a car guy, I noticed the full size Dodge Ram pickup Bob drives with the distinct exhaust note and when asked, Bob noted, "Yes it has a Hemi!"

In addition to the Sox and NASCAR, Bob is a man of many interests, including fishing, guitar and drums. He has also been known to dabble with the sketch pad and painting canvas.

Having a man with all of Bob's skills and talents has made it easy for those who work with him every day to show their appreciation. Bob truly appreciates how everyone treats him, and it shows.

The temple looks great and his business-like demeanor is easily and often interrupted by his welcoming smile as he greets people at the door. Thanks for all you do, Bob. We are grateful to have you caring for our Temple.

Friendly Greeter:

On Friday nights and on other service days and nights when the office is not open, Bob is assigned to greet us at the door for the first 15 minutes after the service time, and then secures the lock for our security. He often has set-up to do in the kitchen during the service—so he cannot hear the bell. See the reminder notice on the bottom of page 19 for more info on this policy.

Thanks to David Rosenzweig who had already captured this smiling picture of Bob polishing the kitchen table and wearing his favorite cap. Go Sox.

Religious Response to Hunger Food Drive: Your Yom Kippur Fast Can Aid the Hungry

by Judith Jolton

At a time when the need is high and pantry shelves are running low, New Horizons relies on the community's donations to help put food on the table for thousands of people without the security of knowing where their next meal will come from.

Our Religious Response to Hunger will begin on Rosh Hashanah, when grocery bags will be distributed after services by members of MANTY—who will also reach out to those who cannot attend.

You are asked to take the bags home, fill them with the equivalent of non-perishable food you and your family would have eaten during the High Holy Day. Add a little extra if you can, and then return the bags to the Temple on Yom Kippur.

The bags will then be taken to New Horizons, which in past years has received more than 25 thousand pounds of donated food from our members.

Our Religious Response to Hunger calls on all of us to give more for the growing number of people who need more. There could be no better way to start the New Year than the mitzvah of giving.

We have all experienced what it is like being hungry...the physiological sensation caused by a lack of food. But for 49 million Americans, including 1 in 5 children, "hunger" has been redefined to a more telling epidemic: "Food Insecurity," the inability to access food consistently, whether it be not being able to afford it or not having access to it.

The problem goes far beyond the homeless population and has embedded itself in communities like ours, where parents have to choose between paying their utility bill or buying food. Or adults may go without food so their children can eat.

And for a growing number of seniors the problem poses a different set of challenges: many have the money to purchase food, but do not have the resources to access or prepare it.

These are the people who find help at the New Horizons Food Pantry and Soup Kitchen.

For over 30 years, Temple Adath Yeshurun, Temple Israel and New Hampshire's religious community have made it a High Holy Day tradition to help those in need with its Religious Response to Hunger.

Please help us this year with your contributions of food and non-food items desperately needed by our neighbors in Manchester.

Prayer for Social Action

DISTURB US, Adonai, ruffle us from our complacency;
Make us dissatisfied. Dissatisfied with the peace of ignorance, the quietude which arises from a shunning of the horror, the defeat, the bitterness and the poverty, physical and spiritual, of humans.

Shock us, Adonai, deny to us the false Shabbat which gives us the delusions of satisfaction amid a world of war and hatred;

Wake us, O God, and shake us from the sweet and sad poignancies rendered by half-forgotten melodies and rubric prayers of yesteryears;

Make us know that the border of the sanctuary is not the border of living and the walls of your temples are not shelters from the walls of truth, justice, and reality.

Disturb us, O God, and vex us;
let not your Shabbat be a day of torpor and slumber;
let it be a time to be stirred and spurred to action.

Apologies for the reference to "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre" and "Blazing Saddles," but we want to emphasize that everyone, EVERYONE, should use their name tags this year.

We are in an unfortunate time when there is a need for heightened security and, as such, your name and identity at services are of the utmost importance for insuring your safety and that of others.

Members in good standing (that's important) will receive High Holy Day tickets in the mail. YOUR NAME TAGS ARE YOUR TICKETS.

When you first check in at the door, you may take a plastic name tag holder for use during the High Holidays.

Please keep your name tag in the holder and bring it to all High Holy Day Services.

After the holidays, we ask that you please return the name tag holders, so that we may reuse, recycle, and save a little money.

Remember, wear your name tag to Help us keep our congregation safe.

Memorial Plaques at Temple Adath Yeshurun

Remembrance is a central part of Jewish culture and heritage. Our holidays signify remembrance of events or identify times of year. So, too, we remember our loved ones at the times of their passing.

In fact, the word "Yahrtzeit" is a conjunction of the Yiddish words for "year" and "time". The Yahrtzeit of an individual has taken on significance in Yizkor (Remembrance) Services, held at TAY on Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Passover, and Shavuot. We remember our loved ones by reading their names on the Shabbat closest to each yahrtzeit. We hold a communal Service of Remembrance at the cemetery on the Sunday between Rosh HaShannah and Yom Kippur (Sunday, Sept. 24, 21017, 10 AM). On Memorial Day, we hold a Remembrance service in our cemetery, for those who served in our military.

Our temple provides another means to remember our loved ones: a Memorial plaque on the wall in the lobby containing the name and date of passing. The tradition of a Yahrtzeit wall dates back centuries.

Our Yahrtzeit wall is modest by comparison with some synagogues, but no less important. The plaques are changed corresponding to the month by our administrator, Karen Rothstein. Should you wish to include the name of your loved one in this Temple Adath Yeshurun tradition, please contact Karen in the office. The cost of a plaque is a one-time fee of $300.

David Rosenzweig of Bedford traveled to San Ramon, California, to watch his grandson Jacob Marc Rosenzweig graduate from Dougherty Valley High School in June 2017. At the end of August, Jake will begin further study at San Diego State University. Mazel Tov.

Congratulations to Ruthie Gordon and Reva Miller, who will receive Shem Tov Awards from the Jewish Federation of New Hampshire for their volunteer efforts on behalf of Temple Adath Yeshurun. They will be honored at the Annual Meeting for the Jewish Federation on September 10, 2017. This free Federation event will be held at Temple Beth Abraham Social Hall in Nashua, NH, from 4 to 7 PM, with kosher BBQ at 5:30.

Mazel Tov to Mark and Stephanie Flanders of Manchester, whose son Adam Flanders will serve on the Temple Board as MANTY president.

Mandy Frank surprised most of her guests at Elliott Frank's Bar Mitzvah when she herself was called to the Torah for the first time. She'd never had the opportunity when she was a young woman, and it made the occasion doubly special for family, guests, and community present at the June 24, 2017 ceremony. (See picture below.) Both Mandy and Barry have given long service to the Temple Adath Yeshurun Board. Mandy also delights our ears with her lovely soprano as soloist, service leader and member of the TAY choir; and Elliott's expert drumming has added jazzy rhythms to many special musical Shabbat services with the Temple choir.

Thanks to the Frank family for contributing time and talents in so many ways.

Liza Bruno Weds Dylan Perry at Rye Beach in August 2017

Mazel tov to long-time TAY members George Bruno and Rona Zlokower, whose daughter Liza Bruno just got married August 12, 2017.

In a separate email to the editor, Rona —speaking for herself and George — reported, “The Hora was rousing, joyful, and long-lasting, and we believe their marriage will be, too.”

Liza Beth Bruno and Dr. Dylan John Perry were married Aug. 12 at the Abeniqui Country Club in Rye Beach, NH.

Dylan is the son of Nancy Odom Perry of Hingham, MA, and Robert Perry of Hull, MA.

Liza is Associate Director in the Office of Advancement at Tufts University in Medford, MA. She graduated from Wake Forest University and received an MBA with a focus on nonprofit management from Boston University.

Dylan is in his second year as a surgical resident with the Harvard Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery program in Boston.

He graduated from Colby College and received a medical degree from the University of Massachusetts Medical School.

Liza and Dylan met at a friend's birthday party in 2010 while both were working in Washington, D.C.: Liza for US Senator Jeanne Shaheen and Dylan for the National Institute of Health

Liza and Dylan live in Kenmore Square, Boston, from where they can watch fans fill Fenway Park, smell the popcorn, and hear the roars of the crowd.

Editor's note: Thank you to Rona Zlokower who sent in this report.

NAQ

NEVER-ASKED QUESTIONS & Answers from the Editor

I enjoy reading the answers to FAQ—Frequently Asked Questions. But as Editor of the Temple Bulletin, I need to have a list of Never-Asked Questions (NAQ) since letters to the Editor are a rare occurrence. I occasionally hear from people at services after a Bulletin is mailed home, but rarely get feedback.

8-12-17. Liza Beth Bruno & Dylan John Perry. ~Julia Elizabeth Photography

A few Never-Asked Questions (NAQ) are offered here, with answers, to encourage input and engagement as we start our New Year.

Where do you get your Mazel Tov News?

Most often Rabbi Beth or our Office Manager Karen Rothstein will give me a heads-up, and then I make myself annoyingly persistent by emails and phone until I get the details. Sometimes I see people at temple, and wrestle the facts from them.

How do I know my news is worthy?

Don't worry about that: see the list of events in the box on page 10, opposite. What are the things that used to be reported in the paper?

What about weddings & partnerships?

Every “simcha” is important to the TAY family. When wedding or commitment ceremonies are announced, we'd love to hear about it in advance, share the details and a picture of the couple—if possible. After the event, a Mazel Tov is called for, too. Our editorial policy is to strive for gender-neutral language and equity for all.

What if I can't write?

No worries.

That's what editors are for.

Bill Herlicka Coordinates Manchester Brewfest: Sends Proceeds to New Horizons

TAY member Bill Herlicka was Festival coordinator for the 4th Annual Manchester Brewfest. He provided this brief description for the Bulletin:

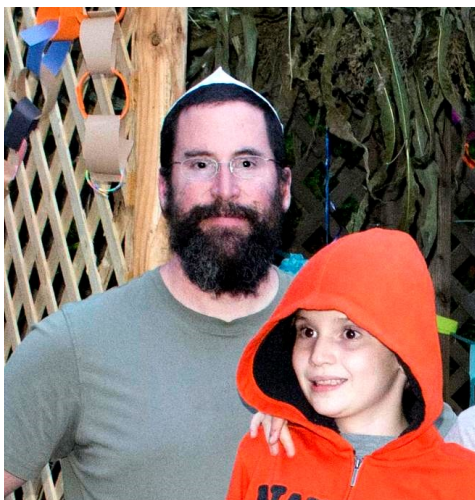

On July 29, 2017, the 4th Annual Manchester Brewfest to benefit New Horizons for NH took place at Arms Park in Manchester from 11 AM to 4 PM.

On a beautiful Saturday we hosted 32 breweries, 16 vendors and 1000 people for a great time for a great cause.

New this year we expanded our program by adding a Bier Hall tent courtesy of sponsor Sam Adams, and an imported table with beers from Belgium, Netherlands, California and Michigan.

One hundred per cent (100%) of the proceeds will go to benefit New Horizons.

Herlicka says, "I was the coordinator but I was part of a larger New Horizons team including Spectrum Marketing, Stark Brewing, Mike Marrett, and Michelle Casalle. Without all of the team this event wouldn't have been possible."

Sol and Linda Rockenmacher saw Bill Herlicka being interviewed on WMUR-TV on the night of July 29, and sent this comment to Bill and to the TAY Bulletin,

"Bill, We just saw you being interviewed as the organizer of the Manchester Brewfest. It was so nice to see that profits are going to support New Horizons. Congratulations on a job well done."

Mazel tov on making it happen and supporting a worthy cause in our community.

10-16-16. At left, Bill Herlicka and son Nate in the TAY Sukkah. ~D. Rosenzweig

Editor's Selection

Prayer for the Days of Awe

In this moment of silent communion, a still, small voice beckons me:
to pursue my life's work with full attention
though no eye is upon me;
to be gentle in the face of ingratitude,
even when slander distorts my nobler impulses;
to meet the end of the day with the certainty that I've used my gifts well and with dignity.
O let me become ever braver, facing life's trials with distinction.
May I live on in deeds that bless others, and offer the heritage of a good name.

PAPER TAY BULLETIN VS. ONLINE EDITION

Printing in color on paper copies is still an expensive process—which is why our Bulletin is black, white, and shades of gray. But online viewing is FREE—whether color or B&W. So we're pleased to announce that the April 17 and May 17 Bulletins ONLINE have been restored to glorious color by Assistant Editor Jonathan Pollack. June-July 17 to be posted soon.

SISTERHOOD NEWS

Linda Rockenmacher

As I write this we are busy making plans for the year ahead and hope our members will continue to enjoy the activities and offerings we are able to provide. We will again be decorating the bimah with fruits, vegetables and flowers before each of the High Holydays, so if you would like to help with this effort, please notify either me or Gail Ellis.

In the fall, you will receive a form for our annual candy sale and we hope you will help us with this fundraising effort. Last year we found that the See's Candies were very popular and easy to sell.

Interfaith Women of NH (IWNH) will present their next program on Tuesday, October 10 at TAY on Prayer: How People of Faith Reach Out to God. Rabbi Beth will be one of the presenters, talking about prayer in Judaism, and an Islamic and Christian perspectives will also be presented. We hope many TAY members will attend.

We promise you another memorable Paid-Up dinner on Monday, October 23, so save the date and come with a good appetite. This year we will have a French theme. A highlight is the presentation of our annual TAY Sisterhood Woman of the Year Award..

JoAnn Meyers will be assisted by Gail Ellis this year in coordinating the onegs held after Friday night Shabbat services.

I hope you will be able to help with this at some time during the year when they contact you; or you can contact them directly if you want to sponsor an oneg on a specific date. It's a nice way to honor the memory of a loved one, or celebrate a simcha.

Joke for August & September 2017

by Ted Yegerman

Max Greenberg openly admitted to the rabbi that he had failed to ask God's blessing at dinner.

"Tell me, my son, why did you not say grace?" asked the rabbi.

"To tell the truth, I forgot to wash my hands before eating."

"Oy vay! A fine generation this is! How could a decent Jew sit down at the table without first washing his hands?"

"There was no point in washing my hands," explained Greenberg defensively. "The food wasn't kosher."

"What? You miserable apostate! You ate traif?"

"But rebbenyu, you don't understand. They don't serve kosher foods in gentile restaurants."

"Why doesn't a hole open up in the earth and swallow me?" moaned the rabbi. He buried his face in his hands for a moment, and then looked up as a thought occurred to him.

"Tell me, Greenberg, why didn't you eat in a kosher restaurant?"

Greenberg replied, "A kosher restaurant! What, on Yom Kippur?"

Our first Sisterhood Meeting will be on Tuesday, Sept. 5 when we will have more specifics about our upcoming calendar. We look forward to another year

A Prayer for Our Country

[Editor's Note: Reprinted from the service folder for Shabbat Service on Friday, July 28, 2017. Adapted by Rabbi Beth Davidson.]

God of blessing, we hear Your call:
You shall be holy, for I am holy.

[Lev. 19:2]

God of righteousness, we hear Your challenge:

Justice, Justice shall you pursue.

[Dt. 16:20]

God of freedom, we hear Your charge:
Proclaim liberty throughout the land.

[Lev. 25:10]

Let each of us be a defender of dignity, an advocate for justice, an activist for liberty. And so let us champion the values that make our nation a haven for the persecuted, a beacon of hope among the nations. We pray for courage and conscience, as we strive to support our country's highest values and aspirations: the hard-won rights that define us as a people, the responsibilities that they entail.

We pray for all who serve our country with selfless devotion—in peace and in war—from the fields of battle to clinics and classrooms, from government to the grassroots, all those whose noble deeds and sacrifice benefit our nation and our world. And we pray for those who lead our country, that they may hear Your commands and work to support dignity, justice and liberty for all.

Inspire us through Your teachings and commandments to love and uphold our precious democracy. Let every citizen take responsibility for the rights and freedoms we cherish—Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness—and we pray for wisdom and moral strength, that we may be guardians of these rights for ourselves and others, now and forever.

AMEN

SHABBAT ONEGS

Start in September

TAY Sisterhood is once again organizing host families and/or individuals to honor or remember a loved one or celebrate a special occasion.

Bar/Bat Mitzvah dates are already reserved as well as the first Friday of each month for a Children's service followed by a pot-luck supper. The remainder of the year is open.

Donations are always welcome as well; however, in order to sponsor an Oneg, the host is responsible for purchasing the food, set-up and assisting our caretaker, Bob Lefevre, with clean-up. Two or more people or families can participate together in this social event to coordinate the event.

Oneg instructions are sent to every Oneg Sponsor prior to the selected date. We thank you for doing this mitzvah. Please do not hesitate to contact me for any additional information or clarification.
